

Acknowledgments

The ACGME acknowledges the many individuals involved in the Clinical Learning Environment Review (CLER) Program and in developing this report, including the CLER Program staff who collectively arranged and conducted the site visits, collated and analyzed the data, and provided editorial input; the members of the CLER Evaluation Committee who reviewed the results and offered their insights as to the impact of the findings; and the reviewers who generously offered their time to read early drafts and provide feedback. We thank them for their dedication and commitment to improving graduate medical education and patient care.
