

Editor's Note: The ACGME News and Views section of JGME includes data reports, updates, and perspectives from the ACGME and its review committees. The decision to publish the article is made by the ACGME.

Key Dates for Phase I Specialties Operating under the Next Accreditation System

PHASE I SPECIALTIES INCLUDE EMERGENCY MEDICINE, INTERNAL MEDICINE, PEDIATRICS, NEUROLOGICAL SURGERY, ORTHOPAEDIC SURGERY, DIAGNOSTIC RADIOLOGY, UROLOGY AND ITS SUBSPECIALTIES

Month and Year	ACGME Activities	Program and Institutional Activities
Spring 2013	- Common Program Requirements and Program Requirements for Phase I specialties categorized into detail processes, core processes, and outcomes - Site visits for Phase I programs with cycle length of 3, 4, and 5 years are moved into next accreditation model
July 1, 2012–June 30, 2013 (different intervals throughout year, by specialty)		Phase I Programs provide data including the annual ADS update, the resident survey, the faculty survey, case log data, and data on scholarly activities
July and August 2012	Alpha Testing of the Clinical Learning Environment Review (CLER) process
September 2012	Beta Testing of CLER visits begins
December 2012	Milestones are published for all Core Specialties
March 2013	Final site visits in the current accreditation system are completed for Phase I programs newly accredited or with a short cycle length
June 2013		Phase I Programs form Clinical Competence Committee and faculty prepares to assess Milestones
July 2013	Phase I specialties and subspecialties begin operating under next accreditation system
July 1, 2013–June 30, 2014 (year-long)	Phase I subspecialty Milestone development begins	Phase I Milestones assessments begin for core programs
Fall 2013	Residency Review Committees (RRCs) in Phase I specialties review annual data from Academic Year (AY) 2012–2013 (without Milestone data)
December 2013		Programs submit the first set of Phase I Milestones assessments to ACGME
June 2014		Programs submit the second set of Phase I Milestones assessments to ACGME
Fall 2014	- RRCs in Phase I specialties review annual data from AY 2013–2014 - First self-study site visits for Phase I programs with a 2014 self-study date

Key Dates for Phase II Specialties Operating under the Next Accreditation System

PHASE II SPECIALTIES INCLUDE ALLERGY AND IMMUNOLOGY, ANESTHESIOLOGY, COLON AND RECTAL SURGERY, DERMATOLOGY, FAMILY MEDICINE, MEDICAL GENETICS, NEUROLOGY, NUCLEAR MEDICINE, OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY, OPHTHALMOLOGY, OTOLARYNGOLOGY, PATHOLOGY, PHYSICAL MEDICINE AND REHABILITATION, PLASTIC SURGERY, PREVENTIVE MEDICINE, PSYCHIATRY, RADIATION ONCOLOGY, SURGERY, THORACIC SURGERY, TRANSITIONAL YEAR, AND INSTITUTIONAL REVIEW

Month and Year	ACGME Activities	Program and Institutional Activities
July and August 2012	■ Alpha Testing of the Environment Review (CLER) process
September 2012	■ Beta Testing of Clinical Learning Environment Review (CLER) visits begin
December 2012	■ Milestones are published for all Core Specialties
Spring 2013	■ Program Requirements for Phase II specialties categorized into detail processes, core processes, and outcomes
	■ Site visits for Phase II programs with cycle length of 3, 4, and 5 years are moved into next accreditation model
March 2013	■ Final site visits in the current accreditation system are completed for Phase II programs newly accredited or with a short cycle length
July 1, 2013–June 30, 2014 (different intervals throughout year, by specialty)		■ Phase II Programs provide data including the annual Accreditation Data System (ADS) update, the resident survey, the faculty survey, case log data, and data on scholarly activities
June 2014		■ Phase II Programs form Clinical Competence Committee and faculty prepare to assess Milestones
July 2014	■ Phase II specialties and subspecialties begin operating under next accreditation system
July 1, 2014–June 30, 2015 (year-long)		■ Phase II Milestones assessments begin for core programs
Fall 2014	■ RRCs in Phase II specialties review annual data from 2013–2014 (without Milestone data)
December 2014		■ Programs submit the first set of Phase I Milestones assessments to ACGME
June 2015		■ Programs submit the second set of Phase I Milestones assessments to ACGME
Fall 2015	■ First self-study site visits for Phase II programs with a 2015 self-study date
Fall 2015	■ RRCs in Phase II specialties annual data from 2014–2015	